Rowboat Creative, LLC

RE: Rowboat Creative, LLC

Dear Mr. Zangrilli:

On December 1, 2023, I sent a letter via e-mail to you concerning Rowboat Creative, LLC (the “Company”). To date, I have not received any response from you or any attorney representing you. If you are represented by an attorney, I ask that you provide his or her name and contact information to me.

Your actions involving the Company and your inappropriate accusations against Lucas Guariglia have jeopardized the continued existence of the Company. You have continued to take funds from the Company in your sole discretion without any prior agreement with Lucas Guariglia and without any regard for depleting the Company’s funds needed for payroll, vendor payments and credit card payments. There is no agreement which obligates the Company to pay you a guaranteed payment each month. If you have any written support for your unilateral monthly withdrawals, I request you promptly send it to me. In 2023, your unauthorized draws from the Company are approximately $30,000 more than the money paid to Lucas Guariglia, without including Mr. Guariglia’s 2023 lump sum payment of $15,000 to the Company or the additional personal expenses you continue to have paid by the Company. Without approval or discussion, you continue to process payments for your personal health insurance premiums by the Company on a bi-monthly basis. No one else at the Company is receiving health insurance premium contributions other than you.

Your accusations about your claimed referral to the Federal Bureau of Investigation concerning Lucas Guariglia are without basis and unwarranted. Any controversy concerning inadvertent credit card charges was previously resolved when Lucas Guariglia personally deposited $15,000 in order to fund the Company's operations. A check dated February 23, 2023 in the amount of $15,000 was paid to Rowboat Creative, LLC in February, 2023. A copy of the cashier's check is provided with this letter. Your statements, accusations and harassment concerning the matter is without basis and, when directed to a third party, defamatory.

On information and belief, you have accessed Lucas Guariglia's e-mails without his authorization, and you have denied you have done so. You are requested to cease accessing his e-mails.

Due to your belligerent conduct and unauthorized withdrawals of funds, you have jeopardized the existence of the Company. It has become evident that the continued operation of the Company is a significant concern due to your actions, conduct and failure to work with Mr. Guariglia in a professional manner. The business relationship is no longer viable. As such, decisions need to be made concerning how to reduce the debts to the vendors, pay down the credit card obligation and try to maximize as much of the value of the Company as possible.

On June 26, 2023, Nixon Peabody made an offer on behalf of Lucas Guariglia to purchase your interest in the Company for a total value of $353,775.61, consisting of $159,020.68 in cash payments and $194,754.93 in debt relief. A copy of the letter dated June 26, 2023 is provided with this letter. No response to the offer was provided by you or your former attorney. If you are interested in Mr. Guariglia purchasing your interest in the Company, I ask that you let me know within the next fourteen days. Alternatively, if you are interested in purchasing Lucas Guariglia's interest in the Company, I request that you submit a purchase offer for his interest within the next fourteen days.

As indicated above, you can decide to either be a seller or a buyer and the terms of the sale transaction will then be negotiated. Your prompt attention to these matters is required. If you will be represented by an attorney, please promptly provide the attorney's name and contact information to me.

Sincerely,

Mark R. Valley

The terms of this offer expire on July 3, 2023. If Mr. Guariglia is unable to reach an agreement with Mr. Zangrilli, Mr. Guariglia intends to file a dissolution proceeding, given Mr. Guariglia and Mr. Zangrilli's deadlock regarding the operation of the business.
