Case No. 2024 CH 00720

Judge Pamela McLean Meyerson

RECEIVER'S FIRST REPORT

Howard Samuels and Ryan Hayes and agent and employees of Rally Capital Services, LLC of 350 N. LaSalle Street, Suite 1100, Chicago, Illinois, 60654, not individually, but solely as the duly appointed Receiver (the "Receiver") with respect to Rowboat Creative, LLC, a business located at 4200 W. Diversey Ave., Dock 6, Chicago, IL 60639 (the "Business"), pursuant to an order entered in this court on February 14, 2024, hereby submits this First Receiver's Report (the "First Report") for the period February 14, 2024 through April 3, 2024 (the "Period") as follows:

APPOINTMENT

Effective February 14, 2024, Howard Samuels and Ryan Hayes were appointed by the Honorable Judge David B. Atkins in the County of Cook, State of Illinois for the Business. Order attached as Exhibit A.

RECEIVER'S BOND

The Receiver was not required to obtain a bond for this appointment.

INSURANCE

The Receiver obtained copies of the Business insurance policies and requested to be added as additional insured to the commercial general liability policy, auto liability, and excess liability, on a primary and non-contributory basis with a waiver of subrogation in favor of the additional insured. A copy of the certificate is hereby attached as Exhibit B.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BUSINESS

Rowboat Creative, LLC is a creative merchandising agency that offers custom screen printing, embroidery, direct to garment, dye sublimation, live branding, creative design, and fulfillment services.

EXISTING LITIGATION

The Receiver is unaware of any existing litigation of the Business outside of the above styled action.

OVERVIEW OF ACTIVITY DURING THE PERIOD

After his appointment, the Receiver met with both Lucas Guariglia and Joseph Zangrilli to discuss his appointment, obtain access to all accounts and business records, begin his assessment of the condition of the Business, and take the necessary steps to safeguard company assets. The Receiver also scheduled an on-site visit to tour the Business and view the operations. The Receiver began construction of an operating budget, ensured he had access to all bank accounts to monitor cash activity, and ensured he was positioned to approve and monitor all purchasing decisions and other outflows of cash.

During his initial assessment of the Business, the Receiver believed it prudent to preserve the employee base, the existing workflow, and the costs accompanied with such while he approved all business decisions, especially and specifically related to cash management. In addition to his oversight of the business operations, the Receiver inquired as to whether either party had an interest to buy out the other's interests, as that would more than likely generate the best possible return and become a viable path toward resolution. After contemplation and consideration, neither party was willing to submit a non-binding letter of intent ("LOI") to the Receiver for consideration and discussion with the opposing party.

The Receiver sought input from both Plaintiff and Defendant in the budget created after review of historical financial performance, review of historical bank activity, and his understanding from immediate institution of operational oversight. The Receiver created a 13-week cash flow budget that demonstrated a flat cash position, or more aptly titled, a business that was "treading water".

As the Business entered the second week of March, its cash position quickly depleted, and the value of the current assets moved starkly downward. With week-to-week operating cash flow largely negative (outflows exceeding inflows) and mounting vendor pressures based on existing past due balances and calls for unsustainable payment plans, the Receiver requested a conference call (on March 21, 2024) with both Plaintiff and Defendant. The Receiver stated that absent a purchase offer from either party, that he felt the best course of action was to immediately begin marketing the Business for sale while also considering the need to halt production and begin an orderly liquidation in order to preserve the current position, prevent further erosion, including the prevention of accrued personal liability (unfunded payroll obligations).

This is the timeline of events that necessitated the motion put forth by Plaintiff's counsel (the "Motion") on March 22, 2024.

BUSINESS OPERATIONS AND STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

It quickly became apparent that sales goals were going to be difficult to achieve and the Receiver worked with ownership to minimize cash outflows, especially as it related to vendor payment plans on past due debt. Eliminating the anomalous order received in week six (discussed further below), billings were approximately 78% of budget over the seven-week period and it was critical for billings to hit the projected levels in order to support the flat or status quo position and minimize further erosion to the Business. Most, if not all of the billings of the Business relate to a value-add component (i.e. screen printing or embroidery) on apparel, goods or other garments with the actual product being sourced and drop-shipped by the customer. The Business received an approximate $150,000 order, nearly 80% of which related to product acquisition. The Receiver has some concerns about taking on this order as there would be little recourse in the event of a mistake in production, notwithstanding that, the Receiver is evaluating this opportunity on a pure brokerage basis.

The current assets do not support the remaining obligations in the budget and the Receiver's focus is on eliminating any exposure in payroll. Please see the attached cash flow budget vs. actual, attached as Exhibit C.

Over the Period, there have been frequent interruptions in production and significant challenges in scheduling often resulting in erratic results and unpredictable timing of deliveries.

In addition to the cash flow budget, the Receiver has prepared a pro-forma balance sheet or an overview of the known liabilities against hard assets and potential sources of cash, attached as Exhibit D, since the Company's books and records were dated, unreconciled, and not reliable. The Business is insolvent, and the expanded authority is necessary to prevent further erosion.

RECEIVER RECOMMENDATIONS

The Receiver is requesting authority to sell the Business. The Receiver has had preliminary discussions with potential parties and has attempted to identify buyers with the help of Plaintiff and Defendant in order to expedite this process.

Absent a buyer of the Business as a going concern, the Receiver is also requesting authority to shut down operations and liquidate in order to preserve the estate and minimize liabilities. The Business or parts thereof can still be sold after a shutdown although it would be Receiver's preference to sell as going concern.

PROFESSIONAL FEES

A detailed invoice showing hourly services provided by the Receiver and his agents at Rally Capital Services for the month of February 2024 totals $13,147.50. The invoice listed below is hereby submitted to the Court for approval, attached as Exhibit E.
